COURT AGAIN IN SESSION

GRAND JURY WILL SEEK TO CLOSE UP COURT MATTERS.

READY FOR STATE COURTS

Zeb Edge Will Give Bond in Alleged Murder Case—Decree of Divorce Granted—Guardianship Affairs Considered.

The attorneys for Zeb Edge have succeeded in securing an order of court reducing the bond of the defendant from $5,000 to $2,500, which bond will be made. Edge was arrested some time in February, charged with the murder of a man named Benson, or Bender near Overbrook about that time.

The facts of the case were printed in the Ardmoreite, and at first it was thought that Edge was the only one connected with the killing, but upon subsequent investigation by the marshal's force, a man by the name of Carlock was arrested and his bond fixed at $5,000, which he has not been able to give. Today, however, on the showing made to the court by J. C. Graham, one of the attorneys for Edge, the bond was reduced.

The court opened this morning with the grand jury present as per the recess order of several days ago. In all probability the grand jury will remain in session until all matters that are hanging fire will be disposed of. The Will Ballow case and a number of others as important will be considered, and either true bills rendered or no bills, as the case may be, and everything put in shape for the state courts when statehood comes.

The bulk of the matters to receive attention was the calling of the motion docket and the dismissal of several cases.

In the matter of the estate of Florence McGee et al. D. H. Dawson was appointed as curator.

The case of W. T. Allen vs. the C. O. & G. railroad was dismissed.

The following citizens of Berwyn were appointed to constitute the board of equalization for that city: O. G. Sparks, J. W. Suggs and R. H. Meek.

A decree of divorce was granted in the case of Ada Hopkins vs. Clarence Hopkins.

In the case of Clara Byrne vs. N. J. Byrne the plaintiff was granted alimony in the sum of $25 per month.

In the matter of the estate of Cissy Moore et al., an order revoking letters of curatorship was issued to C. D. Wortham.

R. E. Langan was granted a decree of divorce from her husband, James Langan.

The case of Nannie Doak vs. A. V. Doak was dismissed.

The case of G. W. Watts vs. W. H. Hogue et al. was dismissed.

W. F. Maharry who has been acting as a curator for the following named persons, Louise Walker, Dora Belle Billy, Cephus Beams, Minnie Carney, Pastor McGhee, Johnnie Loman, Lonnie Battiste and Henry Watkins, resigned and his resignation was accepted. The most of the parties were infants.

John Harris, curator for Jimmie Goins, has resigned, and his resignation was accepted.

CHAUTAUQUA A FAILURE FROM FINANCIAL STANDPOINT

The Summer Chautauqua of Ardmore for the season of 1907 is a thing of the past and will go down in the annals of history of this city as being anything but a success. The result of the efforts of the faithful ladies of this city who desire to establish and build a Y. M. C. A. home were put to naught in so far as receiving any support from the citizens in general to help in the work.

The summer chautauqua course of lectures and entertainments had during the past eight days was such as is given in the east, and all of the entertainers were of the highest rank, but the minds of the people of Ardmore go more towards making money than toward hearing the finest orators in the world who give them words of instruction.

To a certain extent a city is judged ed by the culture of its citizenship, and always in the cultured centers one will find a well organized lyceum. If Ardmore is to be judged by this standard, and the support received by the Y. M. C. A. auxiliary, an outsider would think that Ardmore was still a wild western place.

The management stated this morning that the loss would amount to about $200.

Bryan was the best drawing card and the only speaker that paid expenses for that one lecture. The others, including Hobson, was a loss. The attendance was poor at each entertainment, and to a certain extent disheartening.

Should the chautauqua be thought of for next summer, it will be necessary to insure the entire expenses or the management will not be able to get the orators.

DISCOURTEOUS TO FARMERS REPORT SLANDERS ARDMORE

Some one who has more mouth than brains has been guilty of circulating a report over the western and southwestern section of this country which will act as an injury to Ardmore.

L. Cohen, a merchant of this city, who has just returned from a trip over the western and southwestern section of this country, stated that a report was gaining currency generally over the country, to the effect that the city of Ardmore will not give the farmers any accommodations when they arrive there so as to furnish a place for market, and that the city forbids them hitching their horses on the street or allowing their wagons to stand on the streets.

This report gained headway through enactment of the ordinance forbidding the owners of horses from leaving their teams standing on the streets in the paved district for a longer period than thirty minutes.

The ordinance was enacted as a humane law and to prevent a great many citizens from leaving their horses in one place any length of time in front of buildings, as is usually the case, and not to act against the farmer coming in to trade.

President Lee Cruce of the Commercial club stated that he would not insult the intelligence of the farmers of this country to think that they would believe such a report. The city of Ardmore always welcomes the farmer, and will do everything to make his stay in the city as comfortable as possible. Farmers arrive here everyday and market stuff, and at no time have any of them been forbidden to drive on the streets or hitch their teams.

Further than that, the Commercial club has under headway the raising of a fund to better the public roads in this section, and especially those leading west of here.

Ardmore has ever been a friend to the farmer and hat cordial feeling will never be broken by any act of any citizen of the city of Ardmore.

MILLING-IN-TRANSIT RATE

OIL MILL COMPANY MAY HAVE PRODUCT REFINED EITHER AT SHERMAN OR DALLAS.

The Santa Fe and Frisco lines will, after August 16, allow the Ardmore Oil Mill company the privilege of a milling-in-transit rate on cotton seed oil, with the privilege of having the same refined at either Sherman or Dallas and then being shipped through to point of destination or sold at one of these points.

This agreement was reached at a conference of the Indian and Oklahoma tariff relief committee held at St. Louis a few days ago.

The notice is as follows: "A charge of 1 cent per hundred pounds, minimum, $5 to be assessed, outbound shipment to be confined to refined cottonseed oil, and where back haul is involved, the extra charge will be based on one-half cent per ton per mile figured on the difference between the mileage actually hauled to Kansas City as against the direct line mileage; extra charge in specific figures being as follows:

Cents per hundred lbs.

To Dallas, Tex. .... 3.4

To Sherman, Tex. .... 14.4

The total charges under this arrangement shall not be less, however, than the rate in effect from the refining point to destination, plus 1 cent per 100 pounds; minimum $5 per car, refining charge.

The time for stop-over shall be limited to 90 days."

Ditzler is cutting prices. Attend their big sale.
